SECRETARY HAY'S REMAINS AT REST

Interment Occurred At Lake View Cemetery, Cleveland.

PRESIDENT ATTENDS SERVICE.

In Accordance with the Wishes of the Family of the Deceased Only the relatives and a Small Cortege of Friends Attend the Burial.

Cleveland, July 6.—At almost exactly noon today, the body of John Hay was laid to rest in Lakeview cemetery. Around the open grave at the last moment stood with bowed heads the president and the vice president of the United States, the members and ex-members of the present cabinet and men who in former years served with the dead secretary in the official family of President McKinley. There were others who would have paid a tribute of honor and respect to Mr. Hay, but it was the wish of his family that the funeral should be conducted for John Hay—the man they knew and loved in private life, and not for the brilliant and forceful premier whose name is honored wherever clean and successful statesmanship is esteemed among men.

The assemblage at his funeral, and around his grave was therefore small. Those visible honors accorded him in death were in a ratio directly inverse to those freely given him in life, and perhaps no greater testimony to the worth of the man could have been given than the quiet manner in which his countrymen who appreciated his character and achievements, stood aside at his family's wish, to take hostage for the future for the endurance of his fame. The events of the day commenced with the arrival of President Roosevelt's train at 9 a. m., and closed with its departure at 3 p. m. The funeral itself was held between 11 and 12 o'clock, the interment being at noon.

When, at 9 o'clock, the special train carrying President Roosevelt and the members of his cabinet arrived at the depot of the Pennsylvania railroad a reception committee composed of members of the chamber of commerce, was in waiting and greeted the president. The president then walked quickly from the train towards his carriage accompanied by Mr. Swazey, president of the chamber of commerce. As soon as they had taken their seats the members of the cabinet and the reception committee, entered the carriages and headed by the riding members of Troop A, the procession of carriages moved off at a smart trot for the chamber of comerce, 2 miles distant.

In the presidential party were Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury; Charles J. Bonaparte, secretary of the navy; James Wilson, secretary of agriculture; E. A. Hitchcock, secretary of the interior; Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of commerce and labor; Postmaster General G. B. Cortelyou; Attorney General W. H. Moody, Senator P. C. Knox, of Pennsylvania, formerly attorney general; Charles Emory Smith, former postmaster general; Paul Morton, former secretary of the navy, and Elihu Root, former secretary of war. In addition there were the president's stenographer, M. Latta, and the president's secretary, William Loeb, Jr., and Dr. Rixey, surgeon general United States navy.

An enormous crowd had gathered in front of the chamber of commerce to see the coming of the president and the departure of the funeral, and a strong detail of police was necessary to keep them in line. Side by side with Mr. Swazy and closely followed by Vice President Fairbanks, who, in company with ex-Governor Herrick, met the president at the depot and the members of the cabinet and reception committee, the president passed slowly along the hall toward the door of the auditorium in which the body lay.

The two sentries on guard at the door fell back with presented arms, and giving them a quick, nervous salute, the president entered and stood by the casket. The members of the presidential party followed and when all had entered, the doors were swung and the sentries resumed their guard once more.

It was the expressed wish of Mrs. Hay that President Roosvelt should be allowed to see the face of the dead secretary again if he desired to do so. When the matter was mentioned to the president he declined to disturb the existing arrangements in the slightest and the casket was not opened. There was a brief pause during which the president and members of the cabinet stepped formard to pay their respects to Mrs. Hay as she entered the auditorium from the ante room and then all was ready for the departure from the hall.

The members of the cabinet formed in two lines outside of the door and the casket was borne between them and placed in the hearse. The carriages of the pallbearers then formed a line in advance of the hearse and those of the family of President Roosevelt and of the committee followed on.

A few sharp words of command, scurring and tramping of hoofs and the cavalry wheeled into column and passed to the front of the cortege. There was no delay and the cavalry moved at a quick trot, passed straight south to Euclid avenue and then due east to the cemetery, 5 miles away.

Youthful Couple Married.

Macon, Ga., July 6.—All Macon's marriage records for young people have been broken in the union of Chas. Kinard, aged 17, and Ruby Dennis, aged 14. Their friends here thought these two young people could be thinking of no such steps as were taken, despite the refusal of an official to perform the ceremony, and now they are man and wife. Justice C. C. Brown was approached last Sunday and refused to grant the requests of the young people, telling them that marriage was for grown people and not for children. They have since been gratified by Justice Dan Adams, of East Macon, and they are living happily as Mr. and Mrs. C. Kinard.

Arkansas Senator Not Guilty.

Little Rock, July 6.—A verdict of not guilty was returned by the jury in the trial of Senator A. W. Covington on a charge of accepting a bribe of $6,000 on the bill appropriating $800,000 for the completion of the new state capitol. The jury had been out since Saturday night at 11 o'clock. After the verdict was announced the prosecution entered a nolle prossequi in the remaining charge against Senator Covington of accepting a bribe of $100 and a gold watch for his vote on the district court bill.

Man Drops Dead.

Briston, Tenn., July 6—Thomas Gunter, aged 36, eldest son of John H. Gunter, a Bristol merchant, dropped dead on the street here. He had just arrived here from West Virginia to see his sick mother, but did not live to reach the family home. There is a suspicion that an enemy of Gunter placed poison in some beer he drank and the matter will be investigated.

President Shouts Arrested.

New York, July 6.—L. P. Shouts of Chicago, president of the Panama canal commission, has been arrested at Stamford, Conn., for violation of the automobile speed law. He had a party of women with him and is said to have made an eighth of a mile in 2 seconds. He put up a bond to secure his appearance in court. He was on the way to his summer home at Greenwich at the time.

NAVY IS CRITICISED BY RUSSIAN PAPERS

OFFICERS ARE INCOMPETENT

The Bureaucratic Regime Is Only Reaping What It Has Sown, Declares One Writer—Censorship Is Raised and Papers Print the News.

St. Petersburg, July 6.—With the publication in the Official Messenger of the official account of the tragedy at Odessa the hand of the censorship is raised and all the papers are filled with columns from the foreign papers.

Leaving aside the machinations of the revolutionists, the press, with one voice, declares that the mutinies on board ships of the Black Sea fleet were the result of the rotten system in vogue in the Russian navy, the blue jackets being neglected and the officers living ashore, except during the brief cruises. Captain Clado in a long interview affirms that the question of food was a mere pretext, the real cause being deeper in the complete lack of sympathy between the men and their officers, most of whom he says, are disgustingly incompetent.

Owing to their positions to influence at St. Petersburg, they care nothing for good service, or the well being and contentment of the men. Other writers, some of whom evidently have been in the service but who write under assumed names in most savage fasion, declare that the bureaucratic regime in the navy is only reaping what it has sown and plainly intimate that similar conditions exist in the army.

"Fear," says the Slovo, "is the sole basis of discipline in the army and navy, and it will prove as poor an instrument for keeping the rank and file loyal to the throne as it has in the suppression of discontent among the people. The government should learn the lessons that the soldiers and sailors are beginning to awaken as the people have already awakened.

Situation Regarding Armistice.

St. Petersburg, July 6.—The situation regarding the armistice is as follows:

"Russia has formally signified to President Roosevelt her desire for a lasting peace not only by the appointment of plenipotentiaries who will be accompanied by eminent experts fully empowered to conclude a treaty subject only, but to the satisfication of the respective governments, and as a final step has indicated her readiness to suspend hostilities. She has avoided formally asking for an armistice as a matter of pride."

THE SITUATION IN RUSSIA.

Cossacks Fire Upon Workmen In St. Petersburg—Other News.

St. Petersburg, July 6.—Cossacks fired on the Putiloff works strikers this morning. The trouble was started by the arrest of a youth who was entering the works. The policeman who took him into custody suspected the young man having dynamite in his possession. The latter on being made a prisoner, drew a revolver and killed the policeman and was himself wounded by a bullet fired by another policeman. The strikers quickly gathered around the Peterhof road and the Cossacks were ordered to disperse them. The soldiers charged using their whips and then fired a volley, causing several casualties among the strikers. The excitement in the district is intense.

Mutineers Demand Safety.

Odessa, July 6.—The Russian battleship Kniaz Potemkine has arrived here and asked for coal, provisions and medical attention. The mutineers demanded that the authorities guarantee their safety during the stay of the ship here.

Battleship Going to Batoum.

Bucharest, July 6.—The captain of a vessel which has just arrived here from Galatz reports that he met the battleship Kniaz Potemkine going toward Batoum.

MOB STORMS KENTUCKY JAIL.

Only One Man Wanted Was Found and Lynched.

Russellville, Ky., July 6.—A mob of nearly eight hundred men went to the jail and demanded the keys. Once in, they were able to find only one of the prisoners charged with criminal assault upon the German girl, Mary Gladder. The other three had crawled up the iron railing and hid in the big water tank near the ceiling.

When the crowd got well inside, John Sacra, the man whose trial has been in progress since Monday, dropped to the floor and rushed out of door. Several pursued him and fired at him, but he made his escape, running towards the public square, and would have gotten away had he not met the sheriff and his deputies who were on their way to take them to the 9:20 train for Bowling Green, and they ordered him to stop. He rushed on and they shot at him four or five times, wounding him twice. One shot entered behind the ear, coming out of the cheek, and the other went through the leg near the thigh. Neither wound is thought to be fatal.

The shooting near the square frightened the mob in the jail and they hurried off with only one of the men, Jim Lyon, leaving Polk Fletcher, and Guy Lyon in the jail. These two, together with the wounded man, were taken away shortly afterwards to the train to Bowling Green. It is supposed that Jim Lyon, who was taken away by the mob, was hanged in the outskirts of the town and that his body will be found in the morning.

AIRSHIP'S TRIAL A SUCCESS.

Inventor Is Able to Control and Steer His Machine.

New York, July 6.—Lee Stevens, at a nearby pleasure resort sailed J. H. Baldwin's airship, the "California Arrow," 200 feet into the air and after a trip skirting the ocean front for some distance, returned in safety to the place of starting.

While the airship was a hundred feet above the ground the long drag line which was trailing caught in the electric wires. Stevens sent the airship ahead at full speed, the wire gave way and released the drag line, permitting the airship to continue its trip. Stevens declared that he could easily navigate the California Arrow around the borough of Brooklyn, after which, he declares, he will attempt within the next few days. He said:

"The machine was in my control after it left Aerodrome until I returned and I had no difficulty in describing curves, descending or ascending while in the air."

TWENTY-TWO MEN INJURED.

In a Collision Between L. & N. and B. & O. Trains.

Lexington, Ky., July 6.—In a collision at Valley, 4 miles from Lexington, between westbound Chesapeake and Ohio and an eastbound Louisiville and Nashville passenger train, twenty-two persons were injured.

C. A. Frank, of New York, had several ribs broken and Mrs. B. M. Cheek, of Louisville, had her spine seriously injured. The injuries of the other passengers consist of cuts and bruises.

The Louisville and Nashville was to take the siding at the station and the Chesapeake and Ohio was due to pass without a stop. The Louisville and Nashville reached the switch the Chesapeake and Ohio came around the curve and with brakes set crashed into the Louisville and Nashville.

The engines and tenders were derailed and badly damaged. None of the coaches left the tracks, but the platforms were smashed. The injured were brought here on a special train.

Alleged Negro Assailant Shot.

Savannah, Ga., July 6.—Cicero Andrews, a negro of Doctortown, was brought to Savannah badly wounded and placed in jail. He was accompanied by a doctor and a sheriff's posse. The negro is charged with an assault upon Kate Moore, a young woman near Jesup. His alleged victim is an imbecile. The negro was shot last night by a posse at Jesup. He is wounded in both legs and the right shoulder.

COTTON CONTINUES ITS UPWARD COURSE

TRADING IS NOW VERY ACTIVE

The Bulls Have Complete Control of the Market—They Sold Thousands of Bales on 'Change, Forcing Prices Down a Few Points.

New York, July 6.—Cotton prices reached another new high level today with trading almost as active and excited as during the advance of a cent a pound on Monday. The opening was 13 to 28 points higher, following sensationally firm cables. There was heavy realizing and prices sold off early, reaching 10.58 for October and 10.70 for January, but there was soon another sharp advance on a renewal of bull support and heavy buying orders through wire and commission houses. The weekly bureau report was considered bullish, following the low condition of figures reported on Monday, and after its publication were about 30 points net higher, or around 10.81 for October or 10.97 for January contracts.

New Orleans Market.

New Orleans, July 6.—An active, wide open range of some 40 points or $2 per bale was the history of the erratic cotton market today. The future positions opened 18 points higher than Saturday's closing, then declined to a few points lower than the opening. Then, when the weekly bureau report was made, it advanced as high as 10.90, when a remarkable thing happened. The bull leaders threw spot cotton on the market in 20,000 bale bundles and caused an almost immediate decline of 13 points, where the active months remained at the noon call.

Liverpool Market.

Liverpool, July 6.—The cotton market opened active and excited and an advance of 10 to 13 points was quickly recorded. Heavy selling orders were executed at the high point and at noon values only showed a gain of 4 to 6. During the afternoon the market was feverish. American selling orders and the disappointing opening in New York caused a sharp break in prices and the close was feverish at a net loss of 5 to 7 points.

Shut Up Gambling Houses.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 6.—For the first time in many years Terre Haute's gambling rooms were stripped of their paraphernalia, upon which thousands of dollars have been won and lost, which has resulted in suicides, murders, thievery, defalcations, bank wrecking and home wrecking. The order of the board of public safety followed the public demands for the extermination of gambling after the revelations in the shortage of Gus A. Conzman, cashier of the Vigo County National bank, which closed its doors last Wednesday.

Find Body Months After.

Cheboygan, Mich., July 6.—The body of Albert Fleury, who was lost last February while crossing the straits of Mackinac, on the ice, afte. coming over for medical aid for his sick child was found floating in the slip at Swift's mill in this city Sunday by boys who were fishing. The body was badly decomposed, but identification was possible by his clothes. He was a Maccabee and carried $1,000 insurance, which the widow was unable to get until his body was recovered.

Cargo of Valuable Furs.

San Francisco, July 6.—The Pacific Coast steamship companies freighter Montares has arrived from Copper Island and other Russian ports with a cargo of valuable furs. The Montares freight occupies only two state rooms, but is valued at more than $100,000. Baron von Bruggen of St. Petersburg was a passenger on the Montares left here at Comox, B. C., where he called on the consul.

HOW WE KEPT THE DAY.

The Fourth of July Celebration at Island Grove.

Island Grove, July 5.—Perhaps no place in Florida the size of our little town had a more glorious celebration of that grand event which made our nation the most powerful of all nations than we had at this place on the Fourth. The people all turned out in full force to show their unswerving patriotism and love for the American flag that shields us beneath its protecting folds.

The program was beautifully and most impressively rendered.

The tree under which the speakers' stand was placed was draped in red, white and blue, and two flags were floating in the tree above.

The first number on the program was that old familiar song, "America," which was rendered by a number of clear young voices.

F. T. Baker, Sr., then read in a most impressive manner that old immortal document, "The Declaration of Independence," which, though often we may hear it, never fails to thrill us with admiration for our patriotic forefathers.

The young people then sang "The Star Spangled Banner," after which Mr. Wm. Evans was introduced and read very clearly an appropriate paper for the occasion.

Next on the program was a song, "Battle Hymn of the Republic," which was well rendered. Then came a march which was rendered to perfection by forty little boys and girls. The little ones by their ease and grace delighted the lookers-on and won for themselves great applause.

Mr. J. Whistler was then introduced as the orator of the day, and delighted his hearers with a most appropriate and well delivered address.

"Columbia" was then very impressively sung by the young people, after which the good ladies spread a most sumptuous dinner, and it is needless to say that this was one of the most enjoyable features of the day.

Ice cream was served free during the day, and the entire day was an unceasing flow of enjoyment to both old and young.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Shaw prolonged the enjoyment of the young people by tendering to them a social gathering which was much appreciated. Parlor games were indulged in till a late hour, when the young people took their departure, each voting Mr. and Mrs. Shaw charming entertainers.

Forced to Starve.

B. F. Leek of Concord, Ky., says: "For 20 years I suffered agonies, with a sore on my upper lip, so painful, sometimes, that I could not eat. After vainly trying everything else, I cured it with Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's great for burns, cuts and wounds. At all drug stores; only 25c.

EDUCATIONAL BOARD WILL DECIDE TODAY

As to the Location of the University Under Buckman Law.

ALL POINTS REPRESENTED

The Contest Between Points Who Want the University Has Been Warm But Friendly, Many Speakers Being Present—Decision Today.

Special to The Daily Sun.

Tallahassee, July 6.—This has been a busy day with those interested in the location of the educational institutions of Florida under the Buckman law. The several cities that are after them are well represented here, and the contest, although warm, has been carried on with little or nothing of a personal character manifested.

The arguments were ended before supper and the Board of Control held a meeting at 8:30 p. m.

The decision as to the location of the schools will not be given until tomorrow.

BENJAMIN WILL REBUILD.

Will Erect at Once Fine Business Block on Site of Old Store.

S. H. Benjamin, whom it will be remembered had the misfortune on the early morning of the Fourth of July to lose his building and stock at Micanopy, will rebuild at once, if rumor is correct. Mr. Benjamin has enjoyed a fine business in Micanopy for many years, and he does not propose to relinquish his trade in that section.

Mr. Benjamin's loss, including the building, will reach in the neighborhood of $40,000. He had one of the handsomest stores in the county, and carried probably one of the largest stocks of general merchandise ever known in this section. His was a regular department store, and would have been a credit to any city.

While friends of Mr. Benjamin regretted very much his loss, they will feel glad that he is not discouraged, and that he proposes to resume business as soon as it is possible for him to complete the building.

LEWIS WAS CAPTURED.

Man Who Shot and Wounded Henry Jackson Arrested and Put in Prison.

Deputy Sheriff G. W. Livingston of Newberry was in the city Wednesday. He brought Joe Lewis, alias Kid Shine, to prison to await the session of the fall term of the circuit court.

It will be remembered that Lewis became involved in a difficulty with Henry Jackson, colored, at the camp of W. M. Davidson, near Newberry, Saturday night, and emptied the contents of a gun into the shoulder and abdomen of Jackson. He made his escape, but was later arrested and arraigned before Justice Henderson, when he was placed under a bond of $500 for his appearance. In default of the bond he was committed to prison.

Jackson was not wounded as badly as was at first supposed, and was enabled to appear in court against his antagonist.

City Tax Assessments.

City Tax Assessor Bradford is alive to the interests of the city, as is shown by the returns he has made for the time he has been serving as assessor.

Mr. Bradford has already turned into the city the first of two books, which shows a total assessment of $675,000, which is $25,000 above last year's work. This book does not include the new territory embraced by the passage of the charter bill, and at the regular one-third value this would increase the assessment of the city property about $75,000 over the past year.

The total assessment last year was $650,000, which shows by the increase that the city is prospering.

Mr. Bradford expects to deliver the second book to the city on October 1st.

Election of Officers.

The following officers of the Patriotic Order Sons of America were elected at the last meeting:

H. Milliner, past president; F. P. Bullock, president; J. I. Prevatt, vice-president; J. B. Brooks, master of forms; T. P. Hitton, conductor; A. F. Harrod, recording and financial secretary; P. [illegible] Smith, guard; P. Y. Smith, trustee for eighteen months; A. F. Harrod, trustee for twelve months; T. P. Hitton, trustee for six months.

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable How She Escaped It

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Miss Margret Merkley of 275 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said I had ovarian trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well."

Ovarian and womb troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing down pains, leucorrhœa, don't neglect yourself: try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

WILL MOVE TO TAMPA.

Tampa Herald Says Florida's Popular Lawyer Will Locate There.

The Tampa Herald of the 3rd inst. has the following which will prove of interest to the people of this section:

"Hon. Robert W. Davis announces his intention of making Tampa his future home for the practice of law. Colonel Davis has resided in Palatka for many years and has represented his district in Congress, during which time he has become a well known figure in Florida public life. He is one of the most brilliant attorneys in the State and a gentleman of most charming personality, and will be a welcome addition to the professional and social life of Tampa. It is understood that he will associate himself in the practice of law with Hilton S. Hampton, one of the best known and most forceful of the younger attorneys of the city, who has already won a distinctive place for himself as a successful practitioner, the new combination, therefore, making one of the strongest in the State. The Herald welcomes Colonel Davis to Tampa and congratulates him upon the selection of Mr. Hampton as his associate."

Justice Colman's Court.

Lillie McMullen, colored, was arraigned in Justice Colman's court Thursday upon a charge of selling liquor in a dry county, and was placed under a bond of $200 for her appearance at the next term of the circuit court. The woman was arrested by Marshal Pinkoson, and the evidence surrounding the case was very strong.

Jim Crow Law In Nashville.

Nashville, July 6.—The Jim Crow law passed at the last session of the Tennessee legislature will go into effect here. By the provisions of the law, negro people must take back seats in the street cars, while the whites will be seated in front. Placard have been posted in the cars directing passengers where to take seats. Failure to comply with the law is a misdemeanor. The law is general all throughout the state. Negroes here threaten to boycott the street cars.

ONE THOUSAND DROWNED.

Mexico Is Visited by a Very Destructive Flood.

Mexico City, July 4—Meager advices received here indicate a flood has wrought a great horror at Guanajuato a mining city, now the important seat of activity for seleral large American and British companies.

The reports indicate a death list of from 100 to 1,000, the latter estimate being given in a dispatch received by President Robinson, of the Mexican Central railway. The raging water is carrying the dead through every street.

The water is up to the second story of the Hotel Union. Great damage has been grought to the street car line and service cannot be resumed inside a month. There is only one way the people can get to Marafil, which is with mules or afoot. The superintendent of the railroad has advised officers here to accept no express or heavy baggage.

Guanajuato is completely flooded and water is already invading the higher parts of the town, while there is fear the "Laolla" dam may give way, which would complete general ruin.

The city is built in a great gorge in the mountains and the streets ramble up the mountain side in picturesque fashion.

Indigestion,

With its companions, heartburn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Two Killed in Wreck.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 4.—A serious wreck occurred at the Brawley street crossing, on the Southern railway. Through freight No. 52, running in two sections, came together while in the city of Spartanburg near the crossing, and a dozen freight cars, loaded with coal, and one engine, was badly damaged. Sherman Justice and a second member of the crew of train No. 52 are dead, and Engineer Whitmire is seriously injured. Another negro of train 52 are dead, and Engineer Whitmire is seriously injured. Another negro trainman was also hurt. The accident was caused by the failure of the brakes on section No. 2. The track was soon cleared and traffic resumed.

Kick of Gun Killed Man.

Sparta, Ga., July 4.—Urias Dickinson, a prominent citizen and farmer of Hancock county, was killed by the kick of a shotgun which he was holding against his body. The gun was accidentally discharged and the concussion from the blow caused internal injuries, from which he died. Mr. Dickenson was one of the most prominent farmers of Hancock and a good citizen. He was 60 years old and leaves a large family, all of whom are married.

Negro Boy Kills Father.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., July 4.—John Harris, a 16-year-old negro boy, was lodged in jail here charged with the killing of his father, Shod Harris. It is said that the father was whipping the son when the boy caught up an ax and threw it at the father, which almost severed his head from his shoulders. The tragedy occurred at Abernath.

Cancel All Back Taxes.

Macon, Ga., July 6.—The Macon city council relieved all charitable institutions and a large number of the leading manufacturing industries of this city of nearly $100,000 in back taxes, after a long discussion. In some instances this gave concerns taxes as far back at 1886, which, if collected, would have wrought disaster. All accounts are now cleaned up and council expects to start anew with the charitable institutions and factories. The back tax matter has engaged the attention of council for six months, and there are still indications that the question of disposing of such large accounts by a sweeping vote is not a settled one.

Assaults Cause Excitement.

Birmingham, Ala., July 6.—The second dastardly asault of a negro upon a white woman in the vicinity of Bessemer has raised the excitement of citizens of that community to fever heat and a large portion of Jefferson county is filled with scouting parties who are searching for the miscreanats. When Giraffes Have Hard Work.

Those persons who on a hot summer day have envied the giraffe his long neck because a cooling draft "would last so long" when he swallowed it have probably never stopped to think that it has a more practical use and that in the giraffe makeup the animal's neck is sometimes matched against its legs. One of the most comical sights in any zoological garden is afforded by watching giraffes browse on the grass beneath their feet. Bracing their long legs awkwardly apart, not unlike a boy unused to stilts, the animals eagerly strain to get hold of the grass, and when it is very short they have a hard time. When two or more of them happen to stand together in this awkward position, their long legs crisscrossing each other, they look extremely odd. One woman voiced the sentiment of most of those who see the animals when she said after looking at them, "My, but I wouldn't try to pick up a $1,000 note if I were a giraffe."—New York Tribune.

Using a King as an Advertisement.

When the late P. T. Barnum invited the late king of the Sandwich Islands to his show in the city of New York he was not satisfied with that, which was itself an advertising card, but he managed by advising the king to step with him in one of the chariots—so as to see better a certain part of the performance—to hurry it up in a moment of confusion and sweep the king around the entire circuit of the track. The papers the next day had a notice of the king of showmen and the king of the Sandwich Islands in a chariot race. He could not have written as good an advertisement as the racy news item made. It was a neat exploit, for, small as the king's kingdom was, his sense of his dignity as a monarch was not small, and only by indirection and on behalf of a supposed different motive could he have been induced to become part of such a spectacle.

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Be Rivaled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. To all the men who will miss the Secretary Hay there will be none to deplore his death more keenly than President Roosevelt. His long experience in diplomatic matters had made him one of the most brilliant of any cabinet in the country. He knew every detail of the affairs of the government.

STATESMAN OF THE OPEN DOOR

John Hay served as Secretary of State under two Presidents for a period of seven years, says The Wall Street Journal.

He was the thirty-sixth to hold this great office, and only four of his predecessors—James Madison, John Quincy Adams, W. H. Seward and Hamilton Fish—held the position longer. Their tenure was eight years, but Mr. Hay would have broken the record if death had not ended his career while still in service.

The office of Secretary of State has a history scarcely less distinguished than that of President. There have been twenty-five Presidents, of whom it may be said that, not counting the two still living, there have been only six—Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant and McKinley, whose names shine with brightest lustre through the years; while the names of Jefferson, Marshall, Clay, Webster, Calhoun, Seward, Blaine and Sherman appear in the list of Secretaries of State, in addition to those of James Madison, James Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Martin Van Buren and James Buchanan, who also served as Presidents, and of Edmund Randolph, Edward Everett, W. L. Marcy, Lewis Cass, and in later years Black, Fish, Evarts and Bayard, who were scarcely less distinguished. Indeed it may be said that there are more names generally remembered by the people in the list of Secretaries of State than in the list of Presidents.

It was Mr. Hay's distinction also to have served in another office which has been made great by a succession of great men. He was ambassador to England long enough to have made a distinct and favorable impression in a company where only high intellectual power counts. Among his predecessors as ambassador were such men as James Monroe, J. Q. Adams, Rufus King, Albert Gallatin, Washington Irving, Martin Van Buren, Edward Everett, George Bancroft, James Buchanan, Charles Francis Adams, John L. Motley, James Russell Lowell and Edward J. Phelps, men distinguished in letters, politics, law and diplomacy.

Mr. Hay was the peer in intellect, character and achievements of all these men. It is his special distinction to have been a leader in the "new diplomacy"—the diplomacy of openness and fair dealing. He will be known as the statesman of the "open door," and his death will be deplored in other countries besides ours.

CABBAGE WORM.

People who ever made a statement regarding the great injury the cabbage snake was doing, should now lose no opportunity to try and repair the injury which has been wrought by this little harmless worm. The refutation of the damage this myth was thought to be able to do is not so readily grasped as the sensational story that one worm would poison a whole family, and when it is learned that he is harmless the matter seems absurd, and it is dropped without comment.

But it has done considerable harm in many localities, and it will take some time to change the minds of many people in regard to this matter, but its absurdity has surely proven it all a humbug.

The streets of our city should be the pride of every resident, and an effort should be made to keep them in the best possible condition. Until the city gets a system of sewerage there can be no permanent improvements in many places, but the shade trees and bushes that are along some of them can be trimmed up and beautified. Gainesville has always been known as the most beautiful inland city in the State, and it will take but little effort, if all will do their share, to maintain such high opinion.

The celebration of the Fourth of July in Florida was more general than in any other State in the Union. The people of this State are to be congratulated for this manifestation of their devotion to the old flag and the loyal spirit manifested. Although the spirit of progress is manifested on every hand in the South, and cities and hamlets are struggling for supremacy, yet there was a cessation of labor on the Glorious Fourth and all joined hands and did honor to the anniversary of our natal day, and the inspiring patriotic songs seemed to fill all with a glow of pride that was manifest on every countenance on that day. Both old and young united in praising the Power that has made and preserved our Nation—spelled with a big N.

The Bobolink Route.

The bobolinks are so open in their movements that the passage from Florida to Cuba and thence to South America is known as the "bobolink route." So energetic and brave is this plump little traveler in feathers that it often compasses in a single long ocean flight the 700 miles from Cuba to South America, while many other species which also use the "bobolink route" stop at Jamaica, apparently dreading the long, sustained trip across the Caribbean sea.—Youth's Companion.

Precocious.

Small boys have a way of listening to remarks that older persons make and using them when least expected. A mother was surprised the other day to have her young son reply to her when she was reproving him for some trifling misconduct: "Well, mamma, you must put up with me. You know I'm just at the trying age."

A Mean Retort.

Wife—According to this paper, hot water will prevent wrinkles. Husband—So? Then how do you account for the numerous wrinkles I have? Wife—How do I account for them? Husband—Yes; you keep me in hot water nearly all the time, you know.

Breaking It Gently.

A young man married against the will of his parents, and in telling a friend how to break the news to them he said, "Tell them first that I am dead and then gently work up to the climax."

WORMS

"I had for years suffered from what medical men called Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach. In August I purchased a box of Cascarets and was surprised to find that I "had 'em"—yes—a wiggling, squirming mass left me. Judge our doctor's surprise when I showed him thirty feet, and in another day the remainder (about the same length) of a tapeworm that had been sapping my vitality for years. I have enjoyed the best of health ever since. I trust this testimonial will appeal to other sufferers."

QUEER RUSSIAN WAYS

KISSING PLAYS A PROMINENT PART IN EVERYDAY LIFE.

It Is Especially Practiced at Easter Time, the Greatest Holiday In the Year—The Annual Graveyard Feast In Honor of the Dead.

It is interesting to see how prominent a part kissing plays in Russian life. After every meal in a stranger's house the guest, if he be a man, approaches his hostess as she rises from the table and while thanking her for her hospitality bends over her hand to kiss it. Simultaneously she leans forward and touches the top of his head with her lips.

A court beauty confessed to me, however, that she invariably made a mere pretense of doing this, as she very much objected to the various brands of hair oil with which her lips would come in contact. My own experience is, though, that the custom is conscientiously carried out.

And then, again, if a lady gives her servant, whether man or woman, a present of any kind her hand is at once seized and covered with fervent kisses. You will see children kissing their mother's hand most devotedly on many occasions in course of the day.

But it is at Easter time that one sees a plethora of kissing. The moment the sound of the twelve stokes of midnight on Easter eve has died away sounds of kissing take its place, and these continue all the following day. Every acquaintance met, be it man or woman, is saluted with the words, "Christ is risen," and receives three kisses, while he or she returns the answer, "He is risen, indeed!"

The English governess (of whom there are many in Russia) has a hard time of it at Easter, for the male relatives of pupils take care to assure her that it would be insulting to refuse to allow them punctiliously to carry out this "religious" ceremony. One young woman whose acquaintance I made at the house of a high official had to run the gantlet of half a dozen aids-de-camp who were waiting for her as she left the private chapel after attending the midnight service with her pupils. As one might suppose, the ordeal varies much according to circumstances—and persons.

Easter is the greatest holiday of the year in Russia, and for three days all shops are closed and all business is at a standstill. The days are spent in feasting, drinking and visiting.

Most elaborate refreshments are provided for the numerous callers. One may behold on the sideboard whole roast sucking pigs, huge hams decorated with pink and white designs, various tall "pakas," some of them rich and made of cream and nuts, others simpler with pink, blue and yellow sugar roses and white lambs perched on the top.

Fresh caviare is a matter of course, as well as smoked salmon, sturgeon mayonnaise and a dozen other cold dishes, besides many kinds of wines and liqueurs, which stand ready on a long side table, so that each visitor may help himself as he comes.

Every year on the Monday after Easter Russian cemeteries present an almost riotous appearance. All the families of the lower classes repair to the graves of their departed and feast in honor of the dead. The graves within the little inclosure are often provided with wooden benches and tables, and here the relatives feed on brightly colored eggs, chunks of "paska" and copious libations of vodka.

Gay songs are heard on all sides, and sometimes dancing may be seen. Oftentimes by evening a general drunkenness prevails, resulting in much fraternal hugging and kissing—for Russians become affectionate when drunk and not quarrelsome. The amiable rioters are helped by the extremely lenient police on their homeward journeys.

New Year's day is one of the innumerable Russian official holidays, and all the banks, shops and business houses are then closed, and it is the custom to devote the entire day to making an annual round of visits.

Every woman stays at home to receive visitors, while every man of her acquaintance is supposed to call or send his card. The official who is obliged to, the society man who desires to and the business man for whom it is expedient conscientiously to go through his list of acquaintances—all have to begin early or late, it being customary for women to receive during the whole day. Poor caller! The amount of spirits and liqueurs he has to consume frequently causes a very bad head.

It is required that a man wear full uniform or evening dress to pay these calls, and absurd it looks to see him emerge from a sleigh, throw off his fur "shuba" and appear at 11 o'clock in the morning sunshine as though he were going to a ball.

The accepted form for leaving a card if a man be disinclined or unable to pay the necessary numerous visits is to send it by post in an envelope stamped with a 1 cent gross. These envelopes, [illegible] the proceeds of such sales go to the Red Cross. A card sent in this manner is accepted as a personal visit. The Red Cross must reap a goodly harvest, for thousands upon thousands of cards are sent in this way every New Year's day.

Russian manners at table are not always to be recommended from our point of view. Before using the finger bowls after dinner it is the custom to take a mouthful of the water and rinse one's mouth. This is most conscientiously and even audibly carried out, the water then being returned to the bowl on the table.

I have also seen a noble old Cossack general in gorgeous uniform, with his breast covered with medals, talking to a Petersburg belle at dinner while he audibly sucked the last fragments of a leg of chicken that hung out of his mouth before letting it drop on his plate. Another time I was dining with two sturdy millionaires in the central provinces of Russia. One of them stolidly munched up the smaller bones of the fowl and swallowed them, while the other spat them out on the tablecloth or on the floor, whichever happened to be more convenient at the moment.

Knives are used to carry food to the mouth as a matter of course, and, I must say, great dexterity is displayed in this accomplishment. Salt spoons are almost unknown, each person digging his knife into the saltcellar. A spoon and fork are not used for pudding, a fork alone being deemed sufficient with which to chase the pieces of pudding round the plate and get up the sirup.

Millions of sunflower seeds are consumed by Russians. They are either roasted with a little salt or eaten raw. The peasant women often have deep dents worn in their front teeth by constantly cracking the brittle shells. They become very expert at this. A seed is placed between the teeth and, without being further touched by the fingers, is split, the tiny kernel eaten and the two light husks sent flying to the ground.

On Sunday afternoons piles of husks are to be seen in a semicircle around the doorsteps or benches where persons have been sitting gossiping, each man or woman provided with a pocketful of sunflower seeds. Whole fields of sunflowers are cultivated expressly for the edible seeds.

Once meeting a military man I know in the busy streets of a large town in south Russia, he plunged his hand into the pocket of his wide Cossack trousers and produced a handful of seeds, which he offered me with twinkling eyes. I accepted politely and soon found myself choking, with a husk instead of a seed down my throat.

The Russian watchman has an ingenious arrangement for letting thieves know when he is coming and giving them time to escape. He carries a huge wooden rattle, which he swings energetically as he advances along the street, giving full warning to timid burglars of his approach, but effectually preventing any drowsiness on the part of the unfortunate inhabitants of the houses.

An English M. P. was staying lately at a country house in the government of Cherson, and, not having been initiated into the meaning of the unearthly racket that disturbed his slumbers, he rose in a rage at last and, opening the window, hurled the soap and other bulky toilet requisites at the head of the astonished and indignant watchman. The latter actually protested and refused to be comforted until he received a handsome "for tea"—as a tip is called in Russia—by way of compensation.

Russian servants are frequently the cause of great diversion and exasperation. An English lady living in Odessa told me about her cook, who invariably brought home inferior meat, declaring it was the best, and, of course, pocketing the difference in price. The following dialogue took place:

Miss A.—And did you tell the butcher how bad the meat was?

Pascha (the cook)—No, miss; I didn't dare, miss. Only yesterday with my own eyes, miss, I saw a lady—in her own hat (to distinguish her from servants, who only wear shawls), in her own hat, miss—come into the shop and complain about the meat, and the butcher just threw bones at her till she ran out of the shop, miss. A lady in her own hat, miss!

This was supposed to frighten Miss A. from going to the shop to make inquiries.—New York Tribune.

Kitchens In the Tropics.

The kitchens of tropical countries, such as are to be found in our Spanish-American lands, are like cells from the thickness of the stone walls—often two or three feet deep—and the projecting, omnipresent veranda, which gives a grateful shade and which looks out on a court. The cell resemblance is enhanced by the iron bars at the windows and the heavy double doors, which look as if they could resist a siege. The walls are whitewashed, and the floors are of tiles. The dining room is often separated from this room by a long staircase. Outside the kitchen in the court will stand table and closets to supplement the scant furniture of the [illegible] apartment with a furnace [illegible]

TRICKS OF ANIMALS.

Instances of Where Deceit Takes the Place of Courage.

There are a surprising number of Quaker animals—animals whose regular method of self protection is to offer no resistance to their enemies.

The possum's trick of "shamming dead" is an old story. A writer in the London Spectator cites several other cases of combined cunning and meekness. The hedgehog, the porcupine, the Australian echidnas and some of the armadillos refuse to fight, but they are protected by sharp spires or armor. Some of the armadillos are great diggers and take refuge in holes, while porcupines often hide in hollow logs or trees.

Among marine animals is a starfish, often called the "brittle star," which is the despair of collectors. It seems to make it a point of pride that none of its family shall be shown in a bottle or on a museum shelf. When taken from the water this starfish throws off its legs and also its stomachs. The story is told of one collector who thought that he had succeeded in coaxing a specimen into a pail, only to see it dismember itself at the last moment.

W. H. Hudson describes the death feigning habits of a small South African fox common on the pampas. If caught in a trap or overtaken, it collapses as if dead and to all appearances is dead. "The deception is so well carried out that dogs are constantly taken in by it. When one withdraws a little way from a feigning fox and watches him very attentively a slight opening of the eye may be detected. Finally, when left to himself, he does not recover and start up like an animal that has been stunned, but slowly and cautiously raises his head first and only gets up when his foes are at a distance. I was once riding with a gaucho when we saw on the open level ground in front of us a fox not yet fully grown standing still and watching our approach. All at once it dropped, and when we came up to the spot it was lying stretched out, with eyes closed and apparently dead. Before passing on my companion, who said it was not the first time that he had seen such a thing, lashed it vigorously with his whip for some moments without producing the slightest effect."

Dogs show much the same tendency when they lie down meekly, with their heads down and tails tucked in, and invite a beating. Puppies are just as good at this as hardened veterans.

Some kinds of beetles, many of the woolly caterpillars which have poisonous hairs on their backs and numerous spiders adopt similar tactics. Even the weed louse has the same trick and rolls itself into a ball.

In the whole animal kingdom if anything runs away there is always found something to run after it. The badger, which defends itself wickedly when attacked, is often used for baiting.

Perhaps the commonest instance of passive resistance is the land tortoise, which draws up its front piece and pulls in its head and legs and defies its foes by locking them out.

Mistakes Attract Attention.

The average person takes pleasure in calling attention to errors in spelling or grammar in signs. The mistakes furnish them a temptation to display their knowledge that is hard to resist.

"Every now and then," said a local haberdasher the other day, "I fix up a window sign with a misspelled word or an error in grammar in it. Dozens of people drop in to tell me where it's wrong. Of course I act surprised and thank them. Then the chances are I sell them something."

At a Kansas City theater there used to be an advertising curtain which bore the word "versus" spelled "verses." The word attracted more comment than many of the acts did. It made people talk about the theater, and in the theatrical business to get the public to talking about things is the first step toward money making. So many people began to bother the house manager about the misspelled word, however, that he finally had to have it changed.—Kansas City Times.

The Old Stone Fort at Chambly.

One of the most picturesque remains of the glories of New France, whose history and legends date back to the age of Frontenac and La Salle, is the old stone fort at Chambly, in the province of Quebec. The tablet on the ruins, with its motto, "Courage and Loyalty," in French, bears this inscription: "In the reign of Louis XIV. of France and Navarre, the Marquise de Vaudreuil being governor of New France, this fort was erected in 1711, burned in 1770, restored by Guy Carleton in 1777, abandoned in 1841. It was repaired in 1882 in the reign of Victoria, queen of Great Britain, the Marquis of Lorne being governor general of Canada," etc. A fact which the inscription kindly fails to record is that the burning referred to was by the American troops, who, having captured the fort in 1775 under General Montgomery, burned it the following year when they retreated to Lake Champlain. The various restorations have been made chiefly to harmonize with the weather beaten portions, which resisted the fire of [illegible]

NOTED ASTRONMER MARRIES.

New York, July 6.—Dr. Charles Dillon Perrine, of Lick Observatory, in California and Miss Belle Smith, of Philadelphia, until recently a student of astronomy at the University of California, have been married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Clara Smith, in Philadelphia; Dr. and Mrs. Perrine will start on an expedition to Spain, where they expect to observe a total eclipse of the sun, which will be visible in that part of the world Aug. 30. Later they will make their home on Mount Hamilton, where is located the Lick Observatory. Dr. Perrine has made many important astronomical discoveries. In January, of this year, he found two new satellites of Jupiter. He has discovered thirteen new comets.

In 1900 he was detailed to observe a total eclipse of the sun in Georgia and in 1901 had charge of a similar expedition to Sumatra. For distinguished services to astronomy the LaLande prize and a medal were awarded to him by the Paris Academy of Science.

FATAL FIGHT AT CELEBRATION.

Augusta, Ga., July 6.—At a barbecue celebration of the Fourth at Gaston, in Lexington county, South Carolina, two men were fatally wounded, one probably fatally, and several others more or less badly hurt in a fight that grew to riot proportions. The fatally injured are L. E. Reese, shot in the abdomen and back; Mack Jerriette, cut in the back and side; Joe Reese, shot in the hip.

There had been drinking among the participants, and Mack Jerriette, Rempert Moore, Elliott Pound, T. E. Reese, and Joseph Reese undertook to settle some quarrels of several years' standing. Pound is said to have begun with brass knucks, the latter using his pistol as he arose. Joe Reese then attacked Jerriette and stabbed him six times, severing the spinal column and paralyzing one leg. Moore then shot Ed Reese and Joe Reese. All are young farmers of Lexington county.

BURNING UP HIS MONEY.

Owner of Mysterious Gold Mine Proposes to Astonish Chicago.

Los Angeles, Cal., July6—Scott, the Death Valley plunger, who made a wonderful strike in the desert near Barstow, has sprung a brand new sensation in his freak career from a poor and obscure prospector to a gilded plutocrat.

Scott has just made a deposit of $4,500 with the Santa Fe agent here to cover the price of a special train to take him to Chicago. He declares that he has sufficiently burnt up the village of Los Angeles with his golden flood and now has designs on Chicago. Among other things, he has done here is the making of $500 presents to hackmen and the hiring of whole floors of expensive hotels. When he is out of money he disappears in the Mojave desert and in a few months comes back loaded down with gold.

ANOTHER DEVLIN BANK FAILS.

First National Bank of Tolucca, Ill., Goes to the Wall.

Washington, July 6.—The comptroller of the currency has appointed National Bank Examiner D. A. Cook, receiver of the Spring Valley National bank, of Spring Valley, Ill., upon advice received from Cook that the bank has closed.

The comptroller has also appointed National Bank Examiner J. MacSholt receiver of the First National bank of Tolucca, Ill., upon advice from the vice president of the bank that it would not open for business this morning and a request to have an examiner to take charge.

The suspension of these banks is due to the failure of C. J. Devlin, who was president of both of them.

The capital of the Spring Valley National bank is $50,000 and of the First National of Tolucca, $100,000.

News of Failure at Topeka.

Topeka, Kans., July 6.—When the First National bank of Topeka, controlled by C. J. Devlin, failed on July 3, it was known that the Devlin estate owed both the Spring Valley National bank of Spring Valley, Ill., and the First National bank of Toluca, Ill., which closed their doors today. Just what amount the Devlin estate owes the two Illinois banks is not known, but it is known that they became involved in loaning money to build the Toluca, Marquette and Northern railway, a small coal carrying road which Mr. Devlin was constructing to his mining property in that state. This road connects with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Illinois Central, the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul, the Chicago and Alton and the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa railroads. Negotiations are already in progress, it is said, to sell this railroad property, which is considered a valuable asset.

The Diamond Cure.

The latest news from Paris is that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. McGee of Vanleer, Tenn. "I had a cough, for fourteen years. Nothing helped me, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief, and effected a permanent cure." Unequalled quick cure for throat and lung troubles. At all drug stores; price 50c and $1, guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Thery Wins Automobile Race.

Les Champs, Department of Pub-De-Lome, France, July 6.—Thery won the international automobile race for the James Gordon Bennett cup over the breakneck Auvergne course after an exciting contest in which the Italian champion Lancia held the lead under a break down, which occurred near the finish. Thery was acclaimed as he crossed the line. Commerce Minister Clementel decorated Thery as an officer of the French academy in recognition of his bringing the international trophy back to France. The official classification showed that Cagno was second, with seven hours and twenty-six minutes; Nazzari third, seven hours and twenty-seven minutes; Caillois fourth, seven hours and twenty-nine minues, and Harp fifth, at eight hours and thirty minutes.

SHRINES IN MOROCCO.

Why Some People Look Upon Them With Suspicion.

A traveler says that Christians in Morocco look with suspicion on the shrines of Mohammedan saints in that country. He tells the following story: "Once upon a time a boy was traveling through the country, and as night came on he found himself near a whitewashed tomb. Knocking at the door of the shrine, he asked for a meal and a bed. When the next day dawned he was about to continue his journey, but the keeper of the shrine besought him to remain in order to help him keep the shrine and collect the offerings of the faithful. The youth said that he must first consult his parents, and the elder man bade him take his ass and seek advice of his parents and return. The boy took the ass and rode away, but he had not accomplished half the journey before the ass fell sick and died. Then the boy knew not what to do nor where to turn. But when he had considered the circumstances of his case a brilliant idea flashed into his mind.

"Having dug a pit and cast the ass therein, he piled great stones over it, whitening them with lime, and set a white flag above, saying to all who passed by, 'This is the tomb of St. So-and-so.' Then worshipers came from every side, alms were poured in and offerings showered upon him. The keeper of the former shrine lost his customers and came to visit the new saint. He when the crowd had gone approached the young shrine keeper. 'I ask thee by Allah,' said the old man, 'who is this saint of thine and what manner of thing is buried here?'

"'I will not deceive thee, but will tell thee the truth,' returned the youth. 'My saint who is buried here is none other than thy beast, even the carcass of thine own ass. And now, pray, who is thy saint and who in truth is buried in the shrine thou keepest?' 'I will not deceive thee, but will tell thee the truth,' replied the old man. 'My saint is the father of thy saint.'"

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This.

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Buesing, 701 West Third St., Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty-cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing on me for twelve years. If I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering." J. W. McCollum & Co.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

We all make too much of our difficulties.

When a man brags about himself it is a sign other people don't brag about him.

A mistake many men make is being a cat and imagining themselves popular with the mice.

A man discovers that his wife is getting old looking ten years before he makes the discovery about himself.

If some people would work hard and earn $10,000 some one would walk up and, taking it away from them, tell them they had no business with that much money.

The trouble is that, when a man is told he looks ten years younger than he is, even that leaves him ten or twenty years older than he wants to be.—Atchison Globe.
